

SAFE SKILLS LIMITED

Corporate Social Responsibility

Safe Skills Limited recognises its ethical responsibility to its Employees, Customers, Suppliers, Investors, and Local Communities.

Operating in different area of country, situations and environments are constantly changing. We are therefore continually developing our corporate citizenship polices practices and procedures.

Good Corporate Citizenship

Our Business Ethics Policy, our code for good corporate citizenship seeks to establish best practice guidelines for all the various businesses within the organisation, covering a number of important ethical areas including Human Rights, Health and Safety, Employee Relations and Equal Opportunities & Diversity.

The policy is issued to senior management throughout our organisation and sets a standard to which all Safe Skills Limited businesses must adhere. Compliance with the policy is regularly monitored, although there is some allowance made for geographical and cultural differences, as a result of local regulations and business practices.

The foundation of our code for good corporate citizenship lies with our employees - we are well aware that the organisation's future success is being driven by the performance of our employees.

Investing in the Community

Safe Skills Limited committed to implementing an extensive community investment programme, supporting a range of health, welfare and community projects around London.

The foundation of these projects are built on our culture of giving back to the communities in which we operate and encouraging our employees to do the same.

Safe Skills Limited is committed to being a socially responsible corporate citizen.
